This bill prohibits the New Jersey Transit Corporation (corporation) from issuing a law enforcement badge or a badge that may be mistaken as a law enforcement badge to any member of the corporation's board of directors. The bill also prohibits the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey (port authority) from issuing a law enforcement badge or a badge that may be mistaken as law enforcement badge to any commissioner of the port authority.

The bill also prohibits a county from issuing a law enforcement badge or a badge that may be mistaken as a law enforcement badge to any county elected official who is not elected as a law enforcement officer. Lastly, the bill prohibits a municipality and the State from issuing a law enforcement badge or a badge that may be mistaken as a law enforcement badge to any municipal or State elected official.

The bill defines "law enforcement officer" to mean a person who is empowered to act for the detection, apprehension, arrest, conviction, detention, or rehabilitation of persons in violation of the law.

The provisions of the bill take effect immediately, except that the provision concerning the port authority is to take effect upon New York enacting legislation with an identical effect. However, if New York has already enacted legislation with an identical effect, that provision is to take effect immediately.
