17 STATEMENT

19 This bill would prohibit the manufacture, sale, and promotion of 20 consumer products containing plastic microbeads, beginning on 21 January 1, 2022. The bill defines "consumer products" as products 22 that are customarily produced for consumption by individuals for 23 personal care or for the performance of services ordinarily rendered 24 within the household, and which are designed to be expended in the 25 course of such use.

26 Microbeads are small plastic particles commonly used to 27 exfoliate or cleanse. Although microbeads are effective abrasive 28 agents, they end up in fresh waters and the ocean, where they are 29 eaten by fish and other wildlife and enter the food chain. Some 30 studies indicate that microbeads may absorb contaminants from the 31 surrounding environment, such as harmful bacteria found in 32 wastewater treatment plants. Microbeads also may contain 33 chemicals left over from the manufacturing process.

34 Current State law prohibits the manufacture, sale, and promotion 35 of personal care products containing microbeads. In addition, the 36 federal "Microbead-Free Waters Act of 2015" prohibits the 37 manufacturing, packaging, and distribution of rinse-off cosmetics 38 containing microbeads. This bill would expand the prohibition to 39 include all consumer products.
