7 of New Jersey:

- 8
9 1. (New section) The Legislature finds and declares that:
10 a. New Jersey law requires school districts to provide a two-
11 year course of United States history in high school, which is 12 supposed to include curriculum on civics, economics, and the
13 history of the State of New Jersey; however, most school districts’
14 curricula focus solely on a chronology of United States history in 15 meeting this statutory requirement;
16 b. New Jersey law also requires school districts to adopt a
17 course of study about New Jersey history, geography, and 18 community civics in an elementary grade; however, there are no
19 social studies requirements for middle school;
20 c. Civic literacy and engagement are essential to maintaining a
21 representative democracy;
22 d. Unlike 40 other states, New Jersey does not require school
23 districts to provide a specific course in civics;
24 e. By age 10, students possess the higher order thinking skills
25 necessary for a rigorous, reflective course in civics;
26 f. Independent studies conclude that well-designed civics
27 education fosters an understanding and appreciation of democracy
28 and the skills needed for participation in a democratic society;
29 g. Requiring students to complete a civics course in middle
30 school will ensure that all New Jersey students have the opportunity
31 to gain the knowledge and skills for active citizenship;
32 h. Professional development for teachers is critical to ensure 33 effective classroom instruction; and
34 i. The New Jersey Center for Civic Education at Rutgers, The 35 State University has substantial expertise and 30 years of 36 experience providing professional development, sample curricula,
37 and resources for New Jersey teachers.

38
39 2. Section 1 of P.L.1987, c.425 (C.18A:35-2.1) is amended to 40 read as follows:
