STATEMENT

This joint resolution designates the month of April of each year as “School Library Month” in New Jersey.

School libraries are the informational hubs of educational institutions that provide students and teachers with access to physical and digital information on various subjects in one centralized, organized location. The inclusion of school libraries, and their resources, within school curriculums results in elevated academic performances, increased cultural awareness and history appreciation, and increased critical thinking, information literacy, and reading comprehension skills among students.

In addition, school library visits and the use of library resources allow for schools to provide students with a more well-rounded education. School libraries also facilitate various learning styles, which allows for the individual needs of each student to be met.

School libraries provide students and teachers with important learning materials, encourage academic, social, and cultural growth among students, and inspire students to continue on a lifelong path of learning. For these reasons, schools should encourage the use of school libraries, and their resources, within school curriculums and observe “School Library Month” each April in New Jersey.
