SENATE, No. 111

with Senate Floor Amendments (Proposed by Senator GILL)

ADOPTED: JANUARY 11, 2021

These amendments include employment status, homeownership status, and marital status in the factors that automobile insurers may not consider when assigning a risk to a rating plan. The amendments also prohibit insurers from taking education, occupation, homeownership status, marital status, or credit score into consideration in determining a consumer's eligibility for insurance or in calculating a rate for an insured, or in any insurance score used to calculate an insured's rate.
