(C.34:13A-1 et seq.), or any other law to the contrary:
   a. [Mandatory] Permissive subjects for collective negotiation
   b. [in public employment] involving the several counties and municipalities, and any authorities, boards, commissions or other instrumentalities of the several counties or municipalities, shall include all terms and conditions of employment of public employees that are not otherwise mandatorily negotiable and that intimately and directly affect employee work and welfare, unless those subjects are specifically exempted from collective negotiations by State statute, or unless a negotiated agreement would prevent government from carrying out its statutory mission. Mandatory subjects for collective negotiation involving public employers other than the several counties and municipalities, and any authorities, boards, commissions or other instrumentalities of the several counties and municipalities, shall include terms and conditions of employment that intimately and directly affect the work and welfare of public employees and that are not specifically exempted from collective negotiations by State statute, unless a negotiated agreement would prevent government from carrying out its statutory mission. Statutes and administrative regulations adopted after the effective date of P.L. c. (pending before the Legislature as this bill) that set terms and conditions of employment or that grant public employers authority over terms and conditions of employment do not preempt collective negotiations and do not supersede the provisions of any negotiated agreement, except that terms and conditions of employment set by statutes and regulations shall not be diminished by a negotiated agreement.

b. Administrative regulations adopted after the effective date of P.L. c. (pending before the Legislature as this bill) that set terms and conditions of employment or that grant public employers authority over terms and conditions of employment do not preempt collective negotiations and do not supersede the provisions of any negotiated agreement, except that terms and conditions of employment set by statutes and regulations shall not be diminished by a negotiated agreement.

Parties may agree to submit disputes about whether a matter is within the scope of collective negotiations to the commission, pursuant to the authority vested in it by subsection d. of section 1 of P.L. 1974, c.123 (C.34:13A-5.4).

Grievance and disciplinary review procedures shall provide for binding arbitration as the means for resolving disputes over the application, interpretation or violation of the terms of a collective negotiations agreement entered into by the parties. With respect to the discipline of employees without statutory protection under tenure or civil service laws, binding arbitration shall be the final dispute resolution mechanism of any dispute regarding whether there is just cause for a disciplinary dispute, including, but not limited to, reprimands, withholding of increments, termination or non-renewal of an employment contract, expiration or lapse of an employment contract or term, or lack of continuation of employment, irrespective of the reason for the employer’s action or failure to act. In arbitration, the burden of proof shall be on the employer. Parties may negotiate alternative disciplinary review procedures that may provide for binding arbitration as the means for resolving disputes involving mandatory subjects for collective negotiations discipline of employees with statutory protection under tenure or civil service laws.
For any collective negotiations agreement in effect on the effective date of P.L. , subsection c. of this section, shall become effective upon the expiration of that collective negotiations agreement.
Where an employer and a majority representative agree to disciplinary review procedures that provide for binding arbitration of disputes involving employees who are covered by alternate statutory review procedures, other than public employees subject to discipline pursuant to R.S.53:1-10, the disciplinary review procedures established by agreement between an employer and a majority representative shall be utilized for any dispute covered by the terms of such agreement.
Notwithstanding the expiration of a collective negotiations agreement, an impasse in negotiations, an exhaustion of the commission’s impasse procedures, or the utilization or completion of the procedures required by P.L. , subsection c. of this bill) to resolve disputes involving collective negotiations, and notwithstanding any law or regulation to the contrary, no public employer, its representatives, or its agents shall unilaterally impose, modify, delete, or alter any mandatorily negotiable terms and conditions of employment as set forth in the expired or expiring collective negotiations agreement, or unilaterally impose, modify, delete, or alter any other mandatorily negotiable terms and conditions of employment that are not set forth in a collective negotiations agreement without the specific written agreement of the majority representative. Following contract expiration, and notwithstanding any law or regulation to the contrary, absent express language in a collective negotiations agreement providing that a specific term of the agreement will not continue after the expiration of the collective negotiations agreement, all terms and conditions of the agreement, including, but not limited to the payment of salary increments, shall remain in effect following the agreement’s expiration until the parties reach agreement on a successor collective negotiations agreement.
Notwithstanding any provision of this section, the Legislature retains the right to exempt from collective negotiations subjects that would otherwise be mandatory subjects of negotiations.
Notwithstanding any provision of this section, the resolution of disputes concerning negotiations over terms and conditions of employment shall not be subject to compulsory interest arbitration as set forth in P.L. 1995, c. 425 (C.34:13A-14a et seq.).
The parties to collective negotiations may not insist on negotiating over permissive subjects of negotiations. A party’s decision to not negotiate or to cease negotiating over a permissive subject of negotiations is not a violation of subsection a. or b. of section 1 of P.L.1974, c.123 (C.34:13A-5.4).

The commission shall promulgate regulations to enforce the provisions of this section.

This section does not apply to the New Jersey Court Rules or to records that are required by statute, case law, or the New Jersey Court Rules to be made available to the public by entities provided for in Article VI of the New Jersey Constitution.

Notwithstanding any provisions of the “New Jersey Employer-Employee Relations Act,” P.L.1941, c.100 (C.34:13A-1 et seq.), or any other law to the contrary, if an employee who does not pay dues to a majority representative requests that the majority representative represent the employee in arbitration proceedings to enforce the terms of the collective negotiations agreement between the majority representative and the public employer, including arbitration proceedings involving the resolution of disciplinary disputes, the majority representative may charge an employee for the cost of representing the employee in the arbitration proceedings, and may decline to represent an employee in the arbitration unless the employee agrees to pay for the cost of the representation.
(New section) Only the parties to a collective negotiations agreement shall have the authority to invoke the arbitration procedures of the agreement and the public employer and the employee organization shall be the only parties to the arbitration proceeding invoked pursuant to the collective negotiations agreement.

Facsimile transmissions and email will be accepted in lieu of originals for authorization cards and showings of interest in certification cases; however, all original filings and submissions shall be retained by the petitioner and the originals shall be produced upon request of the commission.

Statutes and administrative regulations that set terms and conditions of employment or that grant public employers authority over terms and conditions of employment do not preempt collective negotiations and do not supersede the provisions of any negotiated agreement, except that terms and conditions of employment set by statutes and regulations shall not be diminished by a negotiated agreement.

b. Grievance and disciplinary review procedures shall provide for binding arbitration as a means for resolving disputes involving mandatory subjects for collective negotiations.

c. Notwithstanding the expiration of a collective negotiations agreement, an impasse in negotiations, an exhaustion of the Commission’s impasse procedures, or the utilization or completion of the procedures required by of P.L. , c. (C. ) (now pending before the legislature as this bill) to resolve disputes involving collective negotiations, and notwithstanding any law or regulation to the contrary, no public employer, its representatives, or its agents shall unilaterally impose, modify, amend, delete or alter any terms and conditions of employment as set forth in the expired or expiring collective negotiations agreement, or negotiable terms and conditions of employment, without the specific written agreement of the majority representative.

regulation to the contrary, absent express language in a collective negotiations agreement providing that a specific term of the agreement will not continue after the expiration of the collective negotiations agreement, all terms and conditions of the agreement, parties reach agreement on a successor collective negotiations agreement.]¹

complaints and issues, or any other matters that are within the scope of a majority representative’s duty of fair representation, and internal union matters involving the governance or business of the union, shall be treated as confidential communications and shall not be subject to disclosure under the discovery rules of New Jersey administrative agencies, including, but not limited to the Office of Administrative Law and the Commission, or pursuant to section 17 of P.L.2003, c.95 (C.2A:23B-17), and other applicable state laws

(cf: P.L.2018, c.15, s.5)

Section 1 of P.L.1967, c.310 (C.52:14-15.9e) is amended to read as follows:

Employees who have authorized the payroll deduction of fees to employee organizations prior to the effective date of the “Workplace Democracy Enhancement Act”, P.L. 2018, c.15 (C.34:13A-5.11 et seq.), may revoke such authorization by providing written notice to their public employer consistent with the terms of the authorization by the employee to have any deductions made from the employee’s compensation for the purpose of paying the employee’s dues to a bona fide employee organization, as those terms are set forth on the writing signed by the employee authorizing the payroll deduction of dues, provided the writing was consistent with the law at the time the authorization was given. If the writing was not consistent with law, the revocation of authorization shall be effective on the dates provided by law at the time the authorization was given in accordance with the law in effect at the time of their initial authorization of payroll deduction of fees or with the terms of that authorization as those terms are set forth on the record bearing the employee’s signature, provided the terms were consistent with the law in effect at the time.

An employee's notice of revocation of authorization for the payroll deduction of employee organization fees shall be effective on the 30th day after the anniversary date of employment.

Within five days of receipt of notice from an employee of revocation of authorization for the payroll deduction of fees, the public employer shall provide notice to the employee organization of an employee's revocation of such authorization.

Such collectively negotiated agreement may include a provision that existing written authorizations for payment of dues to an employee organization other than the duly certified majority representative be terminated.
