

SENATE STATE GOVERNMENT, WAGERING, TOURISM &
HISTORIC PRESERVATION COMMITTEE

STATEMENT TO

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 95

STATE OF NEW JERSEY

DATED: OCTOBER 19, 2020

The Senate State Government, Wagering, Tourism and Historic Preservation Committee reports favorably Senate Joint Resolution No. 95.

This joint resolution designates January 30 of each year as Fred Korematsu Day of Civil Liberties and the Constitution in New Jersey. Fred Korematsu overcame racial discrimination in his youth and racial prejudice during World War II, which ultimately left him personally incarcerated and later sent Mr. Korematsu and his family to an American incarceration camp in this country. Fred Korematsu maintained his innocence pleading his case all the way up to the United States Supreme Court.

Even after the Supreme Court upheld his conviction, Fred Korematsu fought ceaselessly to advocate for the importance of preserving the constitutionally mandated guarantee of liberty for all Americans. Following Fred Korematsu's eventual exoneration in 1983, he has continued to advocate for civil liberties by speaking out against racial injustices and cautioning the federal government against repeating mistakes of the past that singled out individuals based on ethnicity, race, nationality, or religion. His daughter, Karen Korematsu, continues his legacy with the establishment of the Fred T. Korematsu Institute.

Fred Korematsu's strength, courage, and legacy should be remembered and honored among all citizens and residents of this State.
